

Web and Philosophy: Ethics, Logic and Law

PhiloWeb GR 2014 - SATURDAY 31 MAY 2014

HALL 10 – UNIVERSITY OF MACEDONIA, THESSALONIKI

PROGRAM

8.30-9.00 REGISTRATION and OPENING

9.00 – 9.45 Harry Halpin (Invited Speaker) and Reuben Binns, “On Personal Data”

9.45 – 10.15 Michalis Vafopoulos, “ Being, Space and Time in the Web”

10.15 – 10.45 Melvin Chen and Barbora Valockova, “ The Challenge of Search Engine Bias: Trust, Belief, and Faith in the Age of Google”

10.45 – 11.15 Katerina Voutsina, “Revisiting occupational reputation and image in the Web: from orality to electronic literacy”

11.15 – 12.00 Vincent Muller (Invited Speaker) “What is Hot in the Philosophy of AI?”

12.00 – 12.30 Coffee Break

12.30 – 13.00 Vasileios Aravantinos “Electronic Democracy: Could we be referring to an entirely new type of democracy?”

13.00 – 13.30 Antonios Chanos. “Law as a network, Towards a new epistemological paradigm in legal theory?”

13.30 – 14.00 Prodromos Tsiavos and Theodoros Karounos, “Socio-materiality and the evolution of the inevitable: Towards a methodology for a techno-regulatory Analysis of the phenomenon of the “open”

14.00 – 15.00 Lunch Break

15.00 – 15.30 Maria Dimarogkona and Petros Stefaneas,
“Towards a Formal Model of the Semiotic Web”

[Skype Session]

15.30 – 16.15 Alexandre Monin, (Invited Speaker) “”

16.15 – 16.45 Thalia Magioglou, “The role of new technologies and tech-citizenship construction through a sense of self-efficacy”

16.45 – 17.15 Kostas Theologou, “The novel identity of the ubiquitous self”

17.15 Round Table Discussion (chair: M. Bottis)

18.00 CLOSING